Dexian Successfully Recruits Developers and Analysts to Fit Close-Knit Team Culture

Challenge

The client was sensitive to the work ethic and energy within their existing team. They sought individuals whose experience, passion, and interests would mesh with their current culture and workflow.

Solution

Dexian's relationship approach to recruiting was the key to finding the perfect match. Dexian sourced front-end developers and Quality Assurance (QA) analysts that fit a team supporting all the external and Intranet sites for the school.

Outcome

Consultants are thriving in their roles and Dexian has been referred to colleagues in other divisions.
